

BBJ, Friday, May 11, 2012

The sector is probably one of the most significant contributors to GDP, but is still in the dark in terms of employment and professional quality control: facility management is desperately seeking a way to become better known and more appreciated. Read more at www.bbj.hu